

Court Near Showdown On Power Strike In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 25 (AP)—A showdown neared today in an Allegheny county court room on Pittsburgh's power strike amid hints from CIO unionists of a possible general strike call in the city unless the leader of the power union is freed from jail, where he was lodged last night for contempt of court.

A three-judge court was preparing to act on its warning to nine strike leaders that they also would face contempt charges unless the strike is called off.

Meanwhile, the executive board of East Pittsburgh local of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers union asked the CIO-Steel City Industrial Council, representing 200,000 workers, to hold a meeting at which the board said it would present a resolution asking "a general CIO strike if Mueller is still in jail." No time for the meeting was suggested.

Injunction Ignored
The power strike, called in spite of an injunction against it, was still on this afternoon.

The nine men arrived in court an hour after the deadline but gave no indication of how they would reply to the court's order. Opening of court was delayed, indicating a three-judge banc was considering the case.

Awaiting the court's order, a crowd of several thousand spectators and strikers gathered outside the courthouse. Strike sympathy shouts were heard, but the crowd kept orderly.

Gets Year In Jail
The court yesterday sentenced George L. Mueller, president of the striking union, to one year in jail for contempt of court. Mueller had refused to end the power strike—unprecedented in a city of Pittsburgh's size—which further curtailed business in the steel capital today.

Already more than 20,000 workers were idle in steel plants and other industries closed because of the power strike. Thousands more office and shop workers were kept home by curtailment of street car service, which today sagged to as low as 25 per cent of normal.

The light company manned its power plants chiefly with supervisors but said the power supply nevertheless was reduced to 35 per cent of normal today. Electricity still flowed to stores and homes, but the company continued appeals to all to conserve its use. A company spokesman said the present limited service could be continued for several days if enough "voluntary rationing" is applied.

Steel Workers Quit
The first bus curtailment was announced today. Buses stopped on four heavily-travelled Pittsburgh routes because their garage maintenance men are members of the striking Independent Association of Duquesne Light Company employees.

A work stoppage apparently inspired by sympathy with Mueller, the jailed union leader, began among Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation workers at Pittsburgh. About 700 were idle.

BULLETINS

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—About 75 ships, mostly berthed on the west coast and at Pearl Harbor, are suspected of dangerous radioactivity as a result of the Bikini atom bomb test, the joint army-navy task force announced today.

Manila, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Evening News said today that Ambassador Paul V. McNutt soon would resign and return to the United States to enter the law firm of Joseph E. Davies, former Ambassador to Russia. The paper said the resignation would be submitted upon completion of negotiations for U. S. military bases in the Philippines.

Paris, Sept. 25 (AP)—Disposal of the Italian colonies of Libya, Eritrea and Somaliland was entrusted today to the four major powers, the United States, Russia, Britain and France. Gladwyn Jebb of Great Britain, speaking for the four-power Foreign Ministers Council, assured the peace conference that the nations which fought on the Allied side in Africa would be "fully consulted."

Lake Success, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council took a holiday today after voting down Russia's demand for a far-reaching troop report—the second setback for the Soviet Union within a week—and thus clearing its calendar of all business for the first time in a month.

Paris, Sept. 25 (AP)—The general opinion prevailed in peace conference corridors today that Prime Minister Stalin's latest pronouncement on world affairs would aid materially in speeding the work of the 21-nation parley and thus enable it to meet an October 15 deadline for completing five treaties.

POLICE ELECT OFFICERS AS MEETING ENDS

Members of the Pennsylvania Fraternal Order of Police attending the 12th annual convention of Tri-County Lodge No. 76 here Tuesday and today concluded business sessions at the American Legion headquarters this afternoon and left for the Gettysburg firemen's retreat in South Mountains for a late afternoon and evening program of entertainment, dinner and refreshments.

Jacob Wise, Carlisle, was elected president of the lodge, succeeding J. Byers Schleichter, Chambersburg, at the business session this morning. Other officers elected were: Lawrence Grimes, Chambersburg, first vice president; Harry W. Koser, Mechanicsburg, second vice president; Edward Still, Carlisle, guard; J. B. Schleichter and E. R. Fair, Lemoyne, trustees. A third trustee was to be appointed.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, Gettysburg, defeated Charles E. Wise, Carlisle, 13 to 6, for conductor, and John McKillip, Carlisle, defeated Herbert Metz, Chambersburg, for secretary-treasurer, 17 to 5. These were the only contests.

A resolution to change the by-laws to provide for holding the annual meetings in October instead of September, was slated for consideration but action was postponed until the October 13 meeting in Mechanicsburg. The present sessions, as well as previous conventions, conflict with court dates in Franklin county, it was pointed out.

At an open meeting this morning Attorney Richard A. Brown told the police officers that they should include a program of education in their program to improve relations with the public. He contrasted the English police system with the American, and said that constables in the former country enjoy greater respect than police officers in the United States.

Other Suggestions
Mr. Brown suggested that police officers become better acquainted with the children in the schools.

"The first place for you to build a better feeling is with the children," he said. "Go into the classrooms, give lectures on safety. Invite the older children to visit your police station and your jail. Make friends with them. Talk to them, educate them. They will go home and tell their parents. That way you will create a better feeling between the public and the police. You are not now getting the respect that you should have."

Mr. Brown also said that police officers should work to obtain a high type of new recruits, and aid this by obtaining better wages. "You can't expect a man to be a policeman without a living wage," he said. "You should raise the standards of police departments by raising the standard of wages."

Frederick W. Carpenter, Lebanon, financial secretary of the state organization, also spoke briefly. Among guests were Fred McCollum, Philadelphia, state president, and Daniel Coleman, Harrisburg, state secretary.

The convention dance was held Tuesday night in the Hotel Gettysburg annex, with music by Don Peebles' orchestra.

Margarine Price To Be Increased

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Prices for margarine, shortening and salad and cooking oils headed upward today.

An OPA official told a reporter ceilings for consumer packages of these items will have to be raised "at least two cents" as a result of a decision by stabilization director John R. Steelman that higher prices are justified for oil ingredients.

Stelman, called in to arbitrate a dispute between OPA and the Agriculture department, sided with the latter agency in announcing his decision last night.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday.

'CIVIL WAR' IN GREECE FLARES

London, Sept. 25 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman declared today the heavy fighting in northern Greece now amounted to a "small scale civil war" and said evidence presented British representatives by the Greek government indicated the dissident forces were being armed from Yugoslavia and Albania.

British troops could be called upon to act only "in a last resort," the foreign office official said, and would not be used unless the Greek government specifically requested such aid.

On the eve of King George II's return to his throne, the Greek government presented evidence to the British that the forces now being opposed by Greek troops were being armed "from the outside," the spokesman said. Pressed to identify the countries involved, the official said they were "Yugoslavia and Albania," he added, however, that no units of foreign troops were involved, so far as he knew.

"We have no reason to doubt the Greek government's evidence," he said.

The spokesman said he "did not know" whether the present fighting in northern Greece was in any way connected with the pending return of King George II to his throne. The Greek monarch was expected to leave London today.

PENALTY PERIOD ON TAXES NEAR

Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert reminded local residents who yet owe $6,528.96 in 1946 borough and county taxes that unless they pay their tax bills by October 1 a five per cent penalty will be added.

Mr. Weikert's records show that there is $3,728 owing on the borough duplicate and $2,798.43 in county taxes out of total sums given him for collection of $74,864.62. Most of the more than $68,000 already paid in to him this year in county and borough taxes came in during the abatement period with smaller amounts being paid during the current period at which the taxes are received at par.

The penalty does not go on outstanding school taxes until November 2. Mr. Weikert said today, and added that all but $7,904.94 has been paid on the local school tax duplicate of $63,888.33.

Making use of provisions of new laws that put "teeth" in the statutes for the tax collectors, Mr. Weikert declared today: "Wage attachments will be placed on all persons owing occupation taxes after October 1 and personal property tax sales will be instituted to collect occupation taxes of non-wage earners."

"According to law," he continued, "a tax collector must bring suit against any employer who fails to deduct taxes from the wages of his or her employees after an attachment has been issued by the tax collector."

See Acid Test On Accord In Germany

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Germany appears today to pose the acid test for Prime Minister Stalin's prediction of cooperation between the western powers and Russia.

Diplomatic authorities say that insofar as Stalin's latest statement foreshadows a determined Soviet effort to get along with the western powers, the key issue this fall is certain to be the future of the German nation.

With many other problems now under attack at the Paris peace conference, the Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France tentatively expect to get to the German issue in a new four power meeting soon after the Paris sessions wind up.

CONTINUE WORK ON REVISION OF PA. PENAL CODE

Increase in the penalty to three years for tampering with fire alarm systems and fire apparatus has been authorized among a number of other changes in the criminal laws by the Committee of Revision of the Penal Code of the Joint State Government Commission meeting recently with its Advisory Committee in Philadelphia.

These committees, consisting of members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, judges, district attorneys, deans of law schools, and active practitioners, have undertaken the overhauling, streamlining and modernizing of all of the penal laws of Pennsylvania.

Burglarizing of dwelling houses has made more serious than breaking into and entering an ordinary building. Buying, selling or commercial trafficking in war service medals and decorations carries with it a penalty of one year's imprisonment. Wearing military uniforms or insignia without authorization comes in for further criminal liability. Even the possession of the usual poppies and flowers issued by veterans organizations is subject to criminal penalty.

Revised And Modernized

Fortune telling is retained as a crime, and the purchasing of junk from minors is continued as a criminal penalty. A special section was added to prohibit the impersonation of blind, deaf and dumb persons to obtain things of value. The provision dealing with the manufacture or fraudulent use of any means or devices to operate automatic machines was streamlined so as to insure prosecution and conviction. The time within which a person must redeem a check returned for non-sufficient funds was reduced from ten days to five days. Even the acceptance of deposits by insolvent banks has come in for severe penalties. Wherever penalties are imposed for fraudulent use or removal of vehicles, the term "aircraft" has been added to take care of the new vehicle which has become a part of our economy.

"Our criminal laws are being revised so as to meet changing conditions and to aid in proper law enforcement for the protection of human life and the general welfare," said Representative Francis Worley (Adams county), vice chairman of the Committee on the Revision of the Penal Code and sponsor of the resolution which made this study possible.

The committees hope to complete their entire work sometime in October. The entire revision of the criminal laws will be incorporated into a measure to be submitted to the General Assembly in 1947.

POLICE ELECT

"is living under a reign of fear, threat and intimidation," and that its citizens "don't know what we can do and what we can't do."

He condemned numerous pieces of administration legislation, attacking particularly socialized medicine, the housing bill, the FEPC and the OPA, and declared that it was time that the 40,000,000 people in the country who have taken no interest in their government began to ask "what it is all about."

Congressman Gross said he opposed the OPA principally because of its administration, and charged it and other government agencies with attempting to exercise bureaucratic control over the lives of every person in the United States.

"Get Rid of OPA"

"The OPA is keeping cheap merchandise off the market," the speaker said. "We can't have normal production until we get rid of the OPA. We will have higher prices until production brings the prices down," he predicted, but he added that within three months after abolition of OPA controls the channels of trade would be filled and merchandise would be restored to normal price levels.

He criticized the Truman administration for failure to halt strikes and insist on production and declared the federal government agencies were in virtual chaos.

In condemning the Murray-Wagner-Dingle bill, Congressman Gross said it would definitely regiment the medical profession and said the experiment in other countries was a failure.

"The proposed housing bill puts castles in the air but no houses on the ground," he asserted, and the Fair Employment Act would create racial discrimination instead of abolishing it, he added.

Russians Complicate War Crimes Trials

Tokyo, Sept. 25 (P)—Owen Cunningham, one of the defense attorneys in the international war crimes trial here, told fellow defense lawyers today "the same puzzle exists at Nuremberg as does here: How can we reconcile the Moscow system of justice with that of the democracies?"

Cunningham, a Des Moines attorney, just returned from Nuremberg where he conferred with Joachim von Ribbentrop in search of evidence to help his particular Tokyo client, Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany.

Speaking of the introduction into the Nuremberg evidence of a Russo-German pact to divide Poland, Cunningham said:

"On the one hand Russia was co-author of a law making aggressive warfare crime; on the other hand she was a co-conspirator in a crime thus created. It did not and does not make sense."

The double ring ceremony of the United Lutheran church was performed by the Rev. P. J. Horick, pastor of the bride, in the presence of the immediate families and a large number of friends.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Guy Beam, organist, gave a half hour organ recital after which Mrs. Alfred Baskin, Harrisburg, sang "At Dawn-ing," "O Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Beam also played the traditional processional and recessional wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Norma Weidner, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Naomi Beam and Renee Beam, Gardner R. D., were the bridesmaids. Donna Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weidner, Gardner R. D., was the flower girl. James Bates, Harrisburg, close friend of the groom, served as the best man. The ushers were John Reside, Jr., and Robert Rea, both of Harrisburg, Eugene Weidner and Kenneth Beam, of Gardner R. D.

The bride wore a white satin fitted gown fashioned with a net train and trimmed with seed pearls. She wore a finger-tip length veil, which fell from a crown of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

The maid of honor wore a light blue net gown with head veil to match and carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and snap dragons. The bridesmaids wore pink net gowns with head veils to match and carried bouquets of carnations, roses and snap dragons. The flower girl wore a white gown and carried a white basket with assorted flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. After their return they will be at home in a newly furnished apartment, 1319 Liberty street, Harrisburg.

D. N. Benedict, president of the company, which manufactures farm machinery, said the company offered the union a contract on Saturday.

A union spokesman said the contract was considered at a meeting of its members on Sunday but a definite decision was deferred and the Wednesday night meeting was called to take final action.

The terms of the proposed contract were not disclosed. The strike was called after the union submitted demands for an increase of 22 cents an hour.

EXPECTS FEWER RISES IN FARM PRODUCE PRICES

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 25 (P)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson says that in general the time of price increases for farm produce under the new price control law is behind us.

The present ceilings, he said in a nationwide broadcast last night, are sufficient to stimulate production.

Boosts—announced as he was speaking—for soils made of cottonseed, soy beans, corn and peanuts, and for cotton linters "are the last" of the adjustments in view now, Anderson reported as he left the microphone.

"In Public Interest"

Anderson did not deal with plans of the meat industry to petition him for removal of price control or with the reports of farmers' holding their produce in hope of higher prices. He expressed the view, however, that shrinkage of livestock marketings should bring praise for the farmers who have ended the run of unfattened animals that came during the price control lapse.

"It is in the interest of the American public to see markets slowed up temporarily and meat hard to find while 52,000,000 head of cattle and 58,000,000 head of hogs convert 160,000,000 tons of feed into top-grade beef and pork," he asserted.

Anderson added that the result in meat supplies might not be apparent for months.

He told the farmers also that consumers are showing signs of resentment over prices, that farmers have achieved a large measure of that parity in prices which has been their goal; that farm productivity, hidden by war demands, has increased remarkably; and that foreign countries which took 7 per cent of U. S. food production in the war are getting back in production.

GOP ASKS CAUSE FOR 'EMERGENCY'

Washington, Sept. 25 (P)—Republicans, seizing upon President Truman's assertion that this country is in as great an emergency now as when Pearl Harbor was hit, came back today with "whose fault is it?"

Declaring that the emergency will continue "until we can get peace and production," Mr. Truman added in his first major thrust into the Congressional campaign, "That's the program of the Democratic party."

In an informal address to a group of 39 Democratic nominees from 17 states who called at the White House yesterday, the President charged the Republicans with "obstructionist tactics" and called for the election of a Congress in sympathy with the 1944 Democratic platform.

Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee, responded in a statement to reporters that "if we are in as great an emergency as Mr. Truman indicates, whose fault is it?"

"He and his administration have been in power with overwhelming majority in both branches of Congress," Reece added. "No leadership has been in evidence. Mr. Truman is simply in water over his head."

Mr. Truman had pointed to Reece and two other Republicans in voicing his contention of GOP "obstruction" and describing the Democratic party as "The Party of Progress."

Conference To Act On Pastoral Salaries

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (P)—Committee reports came before the 147th annual meeting of the East Pennsylvania conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ today.

The reports will be the last submitted to the conference prior to the merger in November of the United Brethren and the Evangelical churches.

They include those of the finance committee, the Conference Publication Board, the Board of Bonebrake seminary, and the committee on evangelism and spiritual advance.

Also up for action are recommendations by the Rev. David E. Young, of Harrisburg, who was re-elected for a final term as conference superintendent.

Dr. Young recommended that the conference set a minimum pastoral salary at $1,800 a year. He also suggested that all pastors, with a regular charge, be permitted to administer the Sacrament, whether they are ordained or not.

The conference voted to retire the Rev. W. C. Mathias, pastor of the Landingville and Cressona churches, who had served for 27 years, and recommended for license to preach the Rev. Charles E. Parmer, of New Holland.

CALL KAISER FOR NEW QUIZ SESSION TODAY

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Sept. 25 (P)—Professing uncertainty over whether five years of wartime shipbuilding will leave him financially fat or famished, Henry J. Kaiser faced a third quiz session today before Congressional investigators admittedly confused over his operations.

The portly west coast industrialist was called by the House merchant marine committee to clarify two days of previous testimony which Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.) said had left the group "in a temple of confusion."

McConnell and Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio), who was questioning Kaiser and his son, Edgar, when yesterday's six-hour session ended, said they wanted more and clearer information.

Profit or Loss?

Specifically they said they want an explanation of the wide variance between Kaiser's asserted financial position and the claims of the maritime commission which awarded contracts to him and 15 other operators of government-owned ship yards.

Kaiser tossed into the committee's record yesterday statistics which he said showed that when the books finally are closed on his wartime operations he and members of his family associated with him will have either a profit of about $5,000,000 or a loss of $13,000,000.

It all depends, he explained, on the fate of his Fontana, Calif., steel plant, which he said he built at his own risk to supply steel for ships.

If it fails, and Kaiser said he wouldn't be surprised if it does, he claimed he would be liable for $18,000,000. That, he added would convert his estimated $5,000,000 in shipbuilding profits into a $13,000,000 overall deficit.

Strong Earthquake In West Indies Area

Weston, Mass., Sept. 25 (P)—A "quite strong" earthquake—the latest in a series of approximately 300 quakes recorded in the West Indies area in the vicinity of Puerto Rico since last August 8—was registered at the Weston college seismograph station this morning.

The Rev. Daniel Linehan said the earth tremors began at 5:09:41, Eastern Standard Time, and continued for 1½ hours.

Father Linehan expressed doubt that today's quake would have been as serious as that of August 8 when lives were lost and a tidal wave swept shoreward.

He said the record today was far stronger, however, than most of the shocks that have been recorded since the first severe tremors in August.

UNDECIDED ON STARTERS FOR BULLET ELEVEN

The Gettysburg college Bullets are lining for victory trail when they leave football after a lapse of four years against Lehigh at Bethlehem on Saturday.

Heartened by some of their "barges" play against Franklin and Marshall in a scrimmage at Lancaster on Monday, Head Coach Hen Bream and Clyde Cole, line coach have attempted to correct the mistakes that were spotted.

Refusing to name a starting lineup for Saturday's battle against the Engineers, Bream revealed a list of potential starters that numbered 22 players. "Not until I walk out on the field Saturday, will I know who will be the starters," Bream said.

Two sophomores—Leo Krupa, Pittsburgh, and Howard Cauffman, Norristown, are battling a pair of freshmen—Dulley Tremble, Pease, N. J., and Dave Rasmussen, Gettysburg, for the starting wing posts.

Seek Tackle Posts

The battle for the tackle slots is entered between Jim Lewis, returning letterman from New York City; Bob Schlegel, a sophomore of Ashland, and Martin Pavlic, freshman from Harrisburg.

Veteran letterman Bill Hartman, guard from Lansdale, heads the end candidates, while Don Morris, freshman from Cheltenham; Les Ghinani, sophomore from Norristown; Bill Leibknecht, junior from Moorestown, N. J., and Art Smith, Rutledge junior, are gunning for the other starting slot.

The fight for the center post is a duel between Bob Alber, junior of Moorestown, and Mike Rockasand, Steelton neophyte.

The job of picking a starting backfield is a tough one. Bob Hart, Cheltenham senior; Ned Linta, junior from Steelton; Reds Stambaugh, junior of York; Ross Sacha, Gettysburg freshman; Dick Constable, Norristown freshman; Charles Ramo, sophomore from Woodbury, N. J.; Ray Kreider, Litzitz freshman, and letterman Joe Cervino, Haddon Heights, N. J., and a junior are all in the running.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 25 (AP)—Headline: Brooklyn minister asks fans to pray for dem bums. . . Coming in on a swing and a prayer? . . . Lou Little, who doesn't have either, maintains that the best way to develop willing but awkward football players is to have a junior varsity squad and coaching staff so the boys can bump heads daily. "That's the way Sam Cordevano was developed at Georgetown, Little argues. . . Coley Huffman, Texas College of Mines center, is listed as 5 feet, 6 inches and 240 pounds. He must have grown up in a mine. . . The Chicago Cardinals' press book just arrived in an envelope from which the return address "Paul Brown Building" had been carefully covered up. Isn't that carrying inter-league disputes too far?

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

"The Blood Horse," which is read almost exclusively by breeders of race horses, offers this one: "William Carney productions is looking for a horse which can jump, nod, paw the ground, cross his legs, learn against trees, read newspapers and neigh on cue. So is the Blood Horse. We'll make him editor-in-chief."

FAMILY STYLE

Indiana's football squad has two sets of brothers, Capt. Howard and Don Brown and Joe and Walter Bartkiewicz. . . Eddie Tryon's Hobart team can beat that with three pairs, Bob and Joe St. John, Bob and Lawrence Warner and Bob and Don Williams (must be in a rut with all those Bobs). . . When Penn State plays Miami (Fla.), Leo Houck, Penn State boxing coach, will have one heck of a time. His two sons, Leo, Jr., and Eddie, are on the Miami squad. . . And Ross Cherico, NYU line coach, has two kid brothers, Arthur and Gerald, among his pupils. . . Princeton's freshman fullback candidate, Samuel Rulon-Miller, is the seventh member of his family to attend Princeton. That should have him a "natural."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Paul Schreiber, the Red Sox batting practice pitcher who used to toil for the Yankees, is spending his afternoons scouting the Dodgers. When Paul collects his seventh world series check he wants it to be a winner's share. . . Stan Green, Illinois U. tackle, wants to go into personnel work in Mexico following his graduation. Maybe the Pasquels would have a job for him. . . George Cherokee, Cleveland Browns guard, is a spare-time weight lifter just like Frank (Mr. America) Strananhan, the golfer. . . Next major sport to hit Mexico may be ice hockey. Salvador Lutteroth, Mexico's Mike Jacobs, is talking about building an ice palace in Mexico City. . . Why not? It's something like a bullfight with the swords worn on the feet.

Pitt Panthers Work On Offense

Pittsburgh, Sept. 25 (AP)—Pitt's Panthers, in working out yesterday afternoon, tried to penetrate the defense they expect West Virginia's Mountaineers to use in their game at the stadium Saturday.

Coach Wesley Fesler's backfield combination had Lou Ceconi at quarterback, Bill Bruno at left half, Bill Abraham at right half and Lindy Lauro at fullback.

The Panthers lost the services of Bobby Lee in the backfield due to injuries suffered in the Illinois contest, in which Bruno emerged as the leading Panther ground gainer with 29 yards on four attempts.

SOX OUTFIELD FAR AHEAD OF CARDS OR BUMS

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Sept. 25 (AP)—It makes no difference who is Boston's World Series opponent, the Red Sox outfield trio will still have it all over their rivals both at bat and in the field.

Neither the Cardinals nor the Dodgers can come close to matching any pair of flycatchers like Ted Williams and Don DiMaggio, two of the greatest picketmen in the game today.

Williams, probably the greatest hitter in baseball today, stands head and shoulders above the Redbirds' Enos (Country) Slaughter or the Dodgers' Dixie Walker, about the best the National league have to offer.

True, Slaughter has driven in more runs than Ted, and Walker is right on Williams' heels, but the Red Sox slugger hits that longer ball, and hits it more often. Were it not for the 156 bases on balls presented him, Williams undoubtedly would be far ahead of any of his rivals in runs batted in.

DiMaggio, Joe's younger brother, stands out above the others on defense. A great ground coverer, and possessor of a strong throwing arm, the "Little Professor" ranks with the greatest defensive outfielders of all time.

Four For Right

Boston's third picket post will be divided among four eligibles, with veteran Wally Moses and Leon Culberson getting the first call. Either Moses or George Metkovich will play right field when the opposition uses a righthanded pitcher, and Culberson or Tom McBride will be in there when a southpaw is on the mound.

The St. Louis outfield has declined considerably with the transfer of Stan Musial to first base and the inability of Terry Moore to play regularly due to a leg injury.

Slaughter, however, has held up his end in right field. In addition to leading the league in runs batted in with 126, Slaughter is hitting .304, including 18 home runs and is far out in front with 21 assists. Moore has shared the center field position with Harry Walker, younger brother of Dixie, who hasn't quite shown the form he displayed before he entered the army in 1944. Dick Sisler, son of the immortal George, and Erv Dusak, another army veteran, will share the left field assignment.

Walker Is Mainstay

Brooklyn's outfield, like the Cards, is in an unsettled state. In Dixie Walker, the Dodgers have one of the greatest money players in the game. A good fielder, the veteran flycatcher has been Brooklyn's power man all season and is hitting .326, including 115 RBIs. The loss of Pete Reiser at various times due to numerous injuries has hurt the Dodgers.

Currently Walker, Augie Galan and Carl Furillo form the frontline trio. Furillo, playing his first year in the majors, is currently hitting .285. Owner of a strong throwing arm and a fast pair of feet, Furillo has saved many a game for the Dodgers with rifle-like throws and great running catches.

RED AND BLUE TO HAVE BEST TEAM IN YEARS

By TOM SHRIVER

Hershey, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—One of the strongest University of Pennsylvania football teams in recent years heads for home today after two weeks of intensive drill at this resort spot.

Coach George Munger, who has directed the Red and Blue for the past nine seasons, looks forward to another successful year and even goes so far as to say "we have our fingers crossed, but we could possibly win every game."

The reasons for Munger's optimism are not hard to discover. Penn has so much excellent material that right now the head coach has no idea of who will play on the starting lineup.

A full four period scrimmage was held yesterday against Penn State, despite an all-day rain, and Penn won the informal game, two touchdowns to one.

Munger plans to hold two drills daily on Franklin field, Philadelphia, for the balance of this week, and then confine the work to afternoon drills next week in preparation for the opener with Lafayette on Oct. 5.

Backfield Power

It was the power displayed by Munger's array of backs in the second half that impressed a crowd of wet, but enthusiastic spectators. Changes were frequent in the ranks of the ball carriers, but with each change the team seemed to have the same smoothness and precision that one would expect from a veteran combination.

On the line Penn looked capable of holding its own with most of the nation's leading eleven and led by George Savitsky waged an interesting battle with the veteran forward wall that Penn State's Bob Higgins placed on the gridiron.

State also looked impressive, especially in the first half when the Nittany Lions put over their first and only touchdown.

Prior to the opening game the head coach must pick a backfield from such stars as Tony "Skipper" Minisi, Bob Evans, Bob Deuber, Don Schneider, Leroy Pletz, Eddie Allen, Walt Krichling, Carmen Falone, Ed Lawless, and Bill Luongo to mention only a few of his potential regulars.

Several Standouts

End Coach Paul Riblett has Bob Sponaugle and Frank Jenkins back from last year and both are being hard pressed by such men as Jerry McCarthy, Walt Gregorini, Art Littleton, and Wayne Helman.

On the line are such standouts as Savitsky, tackle of last year's team, Joe Dickerson at guard, and a host of newcomers including Bernie Gallagher and Ed Marshall at tackles and Ed Grain at guard.

With Chuck Bednarik having a slight edge over three sturdy candidates for the center berth the Penn line looms as a powerhouse of the first order.

It is Munger's task to pick the best from this group, but the Penn coach just smiles and says "I doubt very much if we can pick a first team until just before the opening game."

Some Trappers Make Big Money

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 50,000 fur trappers are doing a $3,500,000 annual business with some individuals making as much as $5,000 to $6,000 a year from the pelts of wild fur bearers.

This was disclosed today in the report of Edward Danko, of Uniontown, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Trappers Association, to the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

"The fellow who gets out and works really reaps a harvest," Danko said, after noting beginners and part-timers make as much as $100.

Want Licensing

At the same time Danko listed licensing of trappers by the state Game Commission as the top objective of the trappers' organization.

The state's most important fur-bearing animal in a monetary way is the muskrat whose pelts bring between $2,000 and $3,000 in normal years, Danko said. There were 750,000 taken last year for a return of approximately $1,900,000 at OPA prices.

The next in line was the skunk which Danko said brought in $750,000 from 300,000 pelts which contrasted with good harvests of 800,000. Mink was third was a return of $260,000 and opossums fourth with $170,000, while beavers netted $148,000 and red fox $120,000.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—A frosh flash from Cherry Tree, Pa., may be in the Syracuse university lineup when the Orange opens against Boston university under the lights here Saturday.

Walter (Silvers) Slovenski, who has shown good form in practice, was moved up to first string halfback yesterday as Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn sharpened the Orange offense.

Lord Nelson, England's naval hero, won the battle of Copenhagen while acting against orders to stop fighting.

Pitcher Tesreau Dies Of Stroke

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 25 (AP)—Charles M. (Jeff) Tesreau, pitching contemporary of the late Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants pre-World War I championship team, died here in his 58th year.

Tesreau, who had been Dartmouth's baseball coach since 1918, passed away last night after being stricken with a stroke that paralyzed his right side and vocal chords last Friday.

CARDINALS WIN WHILE WEATHER HALTS DODGERS

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The ability of the St. Louis Cardinals to come from behind in the late innings and then go on to win, is one of the primary reasons the Red Birds lead the Brooklyn Dodgers by a full game today in the torrid National league pennant race.

Several times during the present campaign, the Cards have pulled seeming defeats out of the fire in the waning part of a game. They did it again last night when rookie outfielder Erv Dusak hammered one of southpaw Johnny Vander Meer's offerings into the left field bleachers at St. Louis in the tenth inning to enable the Cards to down the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1.

Tied By Musial

Stan Musial set the stage for Dusak's blow last night by singling in a run in the ninth to tie the score. Until then, Vander Meer had blanked the Cards 1-0 on two hits.

The Dodgers' scheduled game with the Philadelphia Phillies was postponed because of rain. The Brooks meet the Phils in a single game today while the Cards tangle with the Reds again under the lights.

Brooklyn will play off yesterday's postponement Thursday, with a doubleheader that day if rain cancels today's tilt.

Elsewhere in the national league, the Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the opener, 13-3 and dropping the eight inning nightcap, 13-0.

Three For Hank

In the American league, Hank Greenberg smashed three home runs to pace the Detroit Tigers to 4-3 and 10-1 victories over the St. Louis Browns.

The twin wins also stretched a Tiger winning streak to ten games and clinched second place for the Bengals as the pennant winning Boston Red Sox nosed out the third place New York Yankees, 5-4.

A scheduled national league twin bill between the Boston Braves and the Giants was postponed because of rain while the other American league clubs were not scheduled.

Price Of Rice Is Increased By OPA

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—The price of rice is going up one to two cents a pound at grocery stores, OPA said today in announcing that it had lifted millers' ceilings.

The agency said its action, made retroactive to September 16, results from an order by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson boosting rough rice prices $1 a barrel.

The retail increase, OPA officials told a reporter, will add from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 to the nation's annual food bill.

The new mill ceilings range from a 50 cent increase for 100 pounds of screenings and brewers rice up to $1.70 increase per hundred pounds on fortuna variety.

Church Of God Selects Delegates

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Selection of delegates to attend the general assembly of the Church of God at Fort Scott, Kan., next year was a major item of business today at the 117th annual east Pennsylvania eldership of the church.

Election of members of the supervisory boards was listed for tomorrow at the closing session of the three day conference when pastors also will be assigned.

The eldership approved yesterday plans to purchase the old Doubling Gap hotel, in Cumberland county, as a site for a youth camp. A $50,000 fund raising project was also approved to finance purchase of the hotel, long a landmark and mecca for tourists.

The Rev. C. H. Lefever, Lancaster, was re-elected as journalizing secretary of the eldership and the Rev. R. H. Dahil, of Landisville, was re-named as transcribing secretary.

Commando Kelly Turns Republican

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—Charles E. (Commando) Kelly, who won a Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery in Italy, is about to launch a new beachhead. A registered Democrat, he is going into Republican politics.

Kelly, who announced he was giving up the filling station he has operated for 10 months, said he was going on a speaking tour for the young Republicans. He expects to "cover" Pennsylvania, generally appealing to the veterans.

New York city's subways and elevated lines have 521 stations.

LABOR PEACE

Peace between labor and capital and the Government party can only come about by a full understanding of the other fellow's side—does labor demand too much, does capital want excessive profits and how much does the government know about each—the public should be told all the facts.

URGE CHANGES IN PA. LAWS

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Registration of all children's boarding schools, institutions, camps and day care centers with the state Welfare Department is proposed by a committee of Pennsylvania's General Assembly.

"All protection which is possible should be provided for the welfare of the children when attending boarding schools and false advertising that schools are accredited should be stopped," said Rep. W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong) vice chairman of the joint state government commission's committee on child welfare.

The recommendations, which will be submitted to the 1947 Legislature, were adopted yesterday after the legislators met with an advisory committee headed by Charles Denby, of Pittsburgh.

The committee also urged establishment of larger boards of assistance to administer both assistance and all child welfare agencies in counties with the state assuming the entire cost of administration and 50 per cent of the cost of aiding and maintaining the children.

Other recommendations included: Prohibit adoption of an abandoned child until six months after abandonment; require agencies placing children in homes to post a $10,000 bond; increased staff of trained investigators in the Welfare Department and use of court facilities to investigate placement of children for adoption and extension of civil service to employees of county boards of assistance.

Today's Talk

KEEP REACHING OUT!
We should forever keep reaching out—not in. It was Browning, I believe, who once wrote "a man's reach should exceed his grasp—or what's a Heaven for?"
Those who reach out to some definite objective, though they may never wholly grasp it, nevertheless are gainers. It's the striving that stirs the spirit, creating character all along the route. In ourselves should live the sternest of task-masters! The mere joy of doing is something that many miss.

Too many folks keep reaching in —into people's personal affairs, into their toil and efforts, and even into the sacred freedom that God has ordained as an inherent gift. They reach in to get, not to give.
All of us should endeavor to radiate our lives, to spread warmth and hope, and to touch up other lives with courage. It is the encouragement of others, and their appreciation of what good we do, that keeps us going, and that keeps us wanting to reach out that we may spread our influence.

That was the purpose of Jesus in selecting his apostles. "Go ye into all the world," he said, "and preach the gospel." And now for nearly two thousand years that plan of his has gone on. My library bulges with books that tell the story of those who reached out, far beyond their human vision. Silently these books look down at me, as I write, and their very presence inspires me.
No man, or woman, is a failure who has sincerely tried. Few of us ever reach the goal we set for ourselves. But the fact that we have covered ground is something ennobling! George Gissing, the English writer, wrote some twenty or so books, but the one he considered the least of his efforts, "The Private Papers of Henry Ryecroft," has spread his fame most. He died at the age of forty-six. I keep this little book near to me that I may dip into its beauty often.

How inspiring is the Lighthouse that spreads its beams afar—warning of shoals and dangerous passages. As we humans keep reaching out, we never know at what time or place, our fingers may touch another, whose only hope may prove to be our helping hand!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Re-Makers."

STATE CENTERS FORM LARGEST COLLEGE BODY

(Editors: This the third and last of a series of three articles dealing with the unique Pennsylvania area college centers plan.)

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Accommodating 12,000 students at an estimated cost of $3,600,000 annually, Pennsylvania's area college centers will be the largest collegiate entity in the state — and self-sustaining at that.

Although the plan is under the aegis of Governor Martin and the state Department of Public Instruction, policies will be administered by advisory councils in each of the nine areas.
Educators from the established colleges and universities in the respective areas will form the council which will set up scholastic standards to guide each of the area coordinators.

Get Full Credits
The enrollees — civilians as well as ex-GIs are acceptable — will receive full college credits for their work. The centers will open Oct. 15 and for the first year will be limited to freshman courses.

Civilians will pay $300 a year tuition, half of which is payable in advance of each semester. Veterans' fees for tuition and books will be financed by the Veterans' Administration.

"We're proceeding on the basis that the plan will be self-supporting," said Dr. Robert McC. Steele, state coordinator, "but the state has advanced a $750,000 loan to finance operations partially until next March when the VA will pay tuition claims for veterans students."

Nine Area Setup
Counties comprising the nine areas, name of each coordinator and tentative sites of the centers, as listed by Dr. Steele, are:

Area 1 — Philadelphia, Delaware, Chester, Montgomery and Buck counties, Dr. Charles A. Ford, Philadelphia, coordinator; Centers: central Philadelphia, south Philadelphia and west Philadelphia high schools and Chesters. (The central Philadelphia center has been named "Martin college" in tribute to the governor.)

Area 2 — Adams, York, Lancaster, Lebanon, Dauphin, Perry and Cumberland counties; J. W. Potter, Carlisle, coordinator; centers: York Junior college, J. P. McCaskey high school, Lancaster, and Harrisburg.

Area 3 — Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh, Northampton, Monroe and Carbon counties: Dr. Fred V. Roeder, Easton, coordinator; center: Allentown.

Other Districts

and Bradford counties; C. E. Groover, Williamsport, coordinator; no centers contemplated for the present.

ington, Mifflin, Juniata, Somerset, ties; Dr. Guy N. Hartman, Meyers-dale, coordinator; no centers contemplated for the present.

land, Washington, Greene and Fayette counties; John W. Patton, Pittsburgh, coordinator; centers:
Pittsburgh, Jeannette, Charleroi and Washington, Pa.

Armstrong, Indiana, Jefferson and Clearfield counties; Dr. Harold W.
Traister, Grove City, coordinator;
no centers contemplated for the present.

Forrest, McKean, Elk and Cameron counties; Ralph S. Dewey, Corry, coordinator; center: St. Mary's.

Promote Lamb Fattening—Two practices recommended by livestock extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college will help to put finish on market lambs. Give the lambs a phenothiazine drench and turn them on a good temporary pasture, such as clover or alfalfa. If good pasture is not available, feed some homegrown grain.

Prevent Smut of Wheat—To avoid loss from stinking smut in wheat, treat all seed not known to be free from the disease. Extension plant pathologists of the Pennsylvania State college recommend a half-ounce of organic mercury dust well mixed with a bushel of seed.

CENSUS SHOWS FARM ACREAGE UP IN STATE

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Despite Pennsylvania's devotion to a gigantic wartime industrial program, the state not only maintained its position as an important agricultural state but improved it in the number of farms and farm acreage.

This is disclosed in a preliminary report on the Commerce Department's 1945 census of agriculture.

The report lists the number of farms in the state in 1945 at 173,267, an increase over 1940 of 4,240; farm land at 15,122,792 acres, an increase of 528,658 acres, and the average size of farm at 87.3 acres, an increase of one acre.

Milk Yield Climbed
Milk production, the report shows, climbed from 493,345,893 gallons in 1940 to 575,630,197 gallons in 1945.

The number of chickens (including broilers and fryers) raised in the state increased from 28,018,758 to 41,554,853, and egg production jumped from 125,567,027 dozens to 175-129,480 dozens.

The number of turkeys raised increased from 606,830 to 904,318.

These increases and other factors had a walloping effect on the Pennsylvania farmer's feed bill. In 1940 he paid $44,336,018 for feed bought for livestock and poultry. In 1945 he paid out $129,596,043.

Livestock Statistics
The state's animal population showed increases in all cattle and calves, cows and heifers milked, hogs and pigs, and goats and kids; decreases in mules and mule colts horses and colts, and sheep and lambs.

Here's a box score:
Animal 1945 1940
Mules, mule colts .. 27,679 44,109
Horses, colts .. 201,608 255,658

PLANNING SAVES TIME IN DAIRY

The time required to care for dairy cattle, which takes nearly one-third of the Pennsylvania farmer's working day, can be reduced through three major methods, says Monroe J. Armes, extension farm management specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, on the basis of surveys made for the Agricultural Extension Service in co-operation with a number of farmers.

These, in brief, are: by acquiring new machinery, rearrangement of the dairy barn or other facilities, and in the improvement of work habits.

On the first, he cautions that to buy or build new machines to do all or part of the job may prove disappointing "unless the new equipment is devised and used with some intelligent thinking." The many milking machines installed but not used in barns throughout the State he cites as evidence in this fact. He lists feed carts, litter carriers, and other items in the same class, advising that they be bought or built only where barns are arranged for their use.

"It is not wise," he says, "to acquire a new piece of equipment unless it does one or more of four things," which are: reduces cost of operation, makes the job easier so that labor can be kept to do it, makes it possible to do the job within the time when it must be done, and, or results in a higher quality product.

Mentioning the expense involved in remodeling or rebuilding barns, he urges careful preliminary planning. "Poor planning," he relates,
"can add months of work and miles of travel to the farmers' chore work for the rest of their lives."

Improving work habits, although little or no expense is involved, can produce marked results in saving time and labor, he finds. As a good approach to this factor, he suggests a careful study of the job to be done, and emphasizes regularity and systematic procedures.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

Fruit Men Busy Harvesting

2,000,000-Bushel Apple Crop

Adams county today was in the process of harvesting what is expected to be one of the largest apple crops in its history.

Estimates of the total production ranged up to 2,000,000 bushels. In 1940 the county produced, according to census figures, 1,897,000 bushels of apples. Since that time the number of trees has increased from 537,000 to 602,000, the census shows.

Handling the crop are approximately 1,525 men and women at Orrtanna, Peach Glen, Biglerville, Gardners and Aspers. Additional hundreds are helping in the orchards to harvest the crop, although the peak of the harvest will not be reached for several weeks.

Quality of Fruit High

To spread out their apple supply most of the canneries have arranged schedules with the growers from whom they buy for deliveries. One canner said today that "if we didn't have such a schedule there would be truck loads of apples strung out for three miles from here."

The canneries seem destined to get more than their usual share of the apples this year with some growers holding that the market for fresh fruit is less this year than in the past.

As a result of several factors the canneries are asking for highest quality fruit this season. Food and drug inspectors are turning back signs of worms. Most of the fruit is good and clean and on the whole the crop this year is of better quality than it has been for years. As a result the canners can demand the best quality and get it, fruitmen say.

Some growers contacted today were pessimistic about the market for their fruit pointing out that the outside market is already flooded with apples from the southern states.

Sugar Shortage Hurts

While the southern apples are blocking the "outside" market from local growers, some said, the local market was also described as having become a "mere fraction" of the normal market because of the lack of sugar.

As a result, the canneries and the storage places will get more apples than they have in years.

At the present, the plants seem to have as much as they can handle or "perhaps a little more," as one canner described it.

Labor Short

Labor was described as short, with all canneries contacted stating they could use more workers in handling the crop. Those canneries which handle tomatoes are continuing with the tomato crop while being flooded with the apples and as a result the businesses are working at or near peak capacity.

The Orrtanna Canning company recently reached a new high in production and other canneries are producing near their limits. One canner is handling between seven and eight thousand bushels of apples each day and one estimate of the amount of apples being processed daily was between 20,000 and 25,000 bushels.

College men from Gettysburg are pitching in to help. Several students from India are helping at the Peach Glen plant of the National Fruit Product Corporation while others are working in various orchards and other plants.

ARENDSVILLE'S HISTORY COVERS OVER 200 YEARS

Arendtsville, which today is one of the more progressive of Adams county's communities, combines the graciousness and dignity of its many years with the attributes of a modern and up-to-date village. Its setting, just below where the Conewago emerges from The Narrows, in the foothills of the South Mountains adds beauty to its environs and the fertility of the soil surrounding it makes it the center of one of the richest farming and fruit raising sections of a county far-famed for its agriculture.

The land occupied by the village, according to a brief history of Arendtsville published in the Gettysburg Compiler on January 22, 1880, was warranted on the 9th day of January, 1739, by Nicholas Curle, whose rights became vested in John Arendt, by whom it was patented on August 14, 1810. The tract was termed "John's Pursuit" in a patent deed of that day, in obedience to the custom of naming estates in those early days.

Block House Nearby

The first improvements must have been made at a very early date, probably soon after the land was warranted by Mr. Curle, perhaps even before that time. It seems to have been a center for the entire countryside for miles around. The fact of its possessing a church and schoolhouse at so early a date confirms this opinion.

There is an old tradition that there was a block-house erected for the protection of the first settlers of the Conewago valley against the Indians, and this block-house, it is said, stood on what was later to be the Solomon Hartman property, about two miles north of Arendtsville. As late as 1797, the families in this region were in the habit of putting out their fires at night so as not to attract the attention of Indians who might be prowling in the neighborhood.

Founded in 1808

Founding of Arendtsville is attributed to John Arendt in 1808. The road leading at that time from York to Chambersburg, an important highway, intersected the one from Gettysburg to Shippensburg at this point, and here the village was located, with an eye to trade and commerce. Mr. Arendt became an influential citizen and served as sheriff of Adams county. He died in 1826.

Today Arendtsville is a community of several churches, a modern school system, numerous business places and mills, and many beautiful homes, some of them of recent and commodious construction. But its progress from its founding was slow. In 1820, The Compiler history records, there were only three houses, a blacksmith shop, church, school, and hotel.

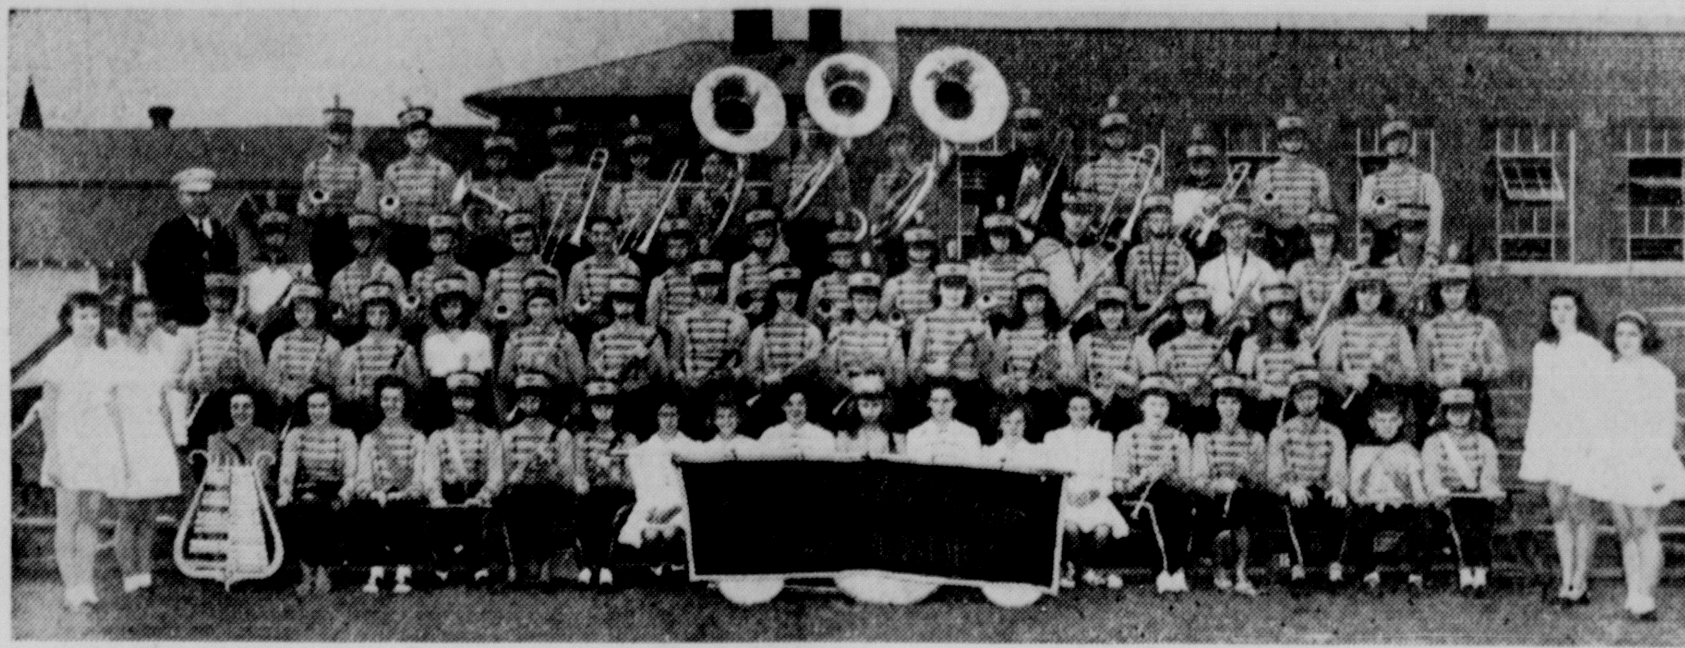

Mr. Arendt built one of the original buildings himself, locating it on the northwest corner of the square. The progress of the village was arrested by Mr. Arendt's death, and remained at a standstill for nearly 30 years. The land did not become available for building lots until after the death of his widow, when it was purchased by Jacob F. Lower in 1853.

Post Office Established

Mr. Lower opened a store and three years later built a carpenter shop which later he converted into a storeroom and dwelling. George Lower built a store adjoining.

Winter Protection For Wildlife

The word "protection" scarcely fits into the farmer's role and his responsibility towards all beneficial birds. He must do more than protect, for that does not imply an increase. He must, in fact, combine a year-round program of protection with assistance of every practical means by which wildlife will be vastly increased.

Many factors have contributed to birdlife decline on the average American farm. Wire fences have displaced old types of crooked rail fences and the snug corners in which birds and small animals found shelter, feed and refuge.

Drainage projects have taken away swamps and swales where pheasants and other game birds once propagated. And above all, the widespread destruction of forests has robbed birdlife of both shelter and feed.

It is quite easy to blame the thoughtless hunter for our decline of farm wildlife. And in many cases so-called sportsmen are guilty, especially where they heartlessly kill their bag of game—quails, rabbits, squirrels, wild ducks, wild geese and pheasants—from a dwindling number which can find no shelter from their approaching extinction. But in the main the farmer is the chief destroyer of wildlife, for it is he who has allowed the greater menace to come—lack of shelter, feed and inducement to multiply.

There is much the individual citizen can do to restore and protect birdlife; there is considerable a community can accomplish by united action. But whether wildlife is increased by individual or cooperative sive but essential practices must be employed. Among these are:

1. Post farm land according to law against trespass by hunters.
2. Provide shelter belts along the turnrows of cultivated fields, in fence rows, swales and similar idle and marginal areas.
3. Fence woodlots against livestock grazing so a lush growth of

BITTER SATIRE GETS APPLAUSE IN FRANKFURT

By TOM REEDY

Frankfurt, Germany, (AP) — The Germans had an animal show at the zoo the other night.

In bitter satire, German players acted out the Grimm fairy tale of Lucky Johnny who didn't know when he was well off and kept trading animals for other animals until he was broke.

The German audience applauded lustily.

With one eye on military government, the other on Germans, the actors put on what Deutschland calls a "political cabaret," skits based on political developments.

You can't find them anywhere else. In this one, a tired old frau, well past her prime, came out on the stage and in song and pantomime told how happy she was that she had a bag of gold in her hand. It took her 14 years to get that gold, she sang.

Trades Her Gold
A character in military dress, flashing eyes and sporting a Hitler mustache — what a coincidence! — came out of the wings astride a wooden horse. He looked pretty fancy and the frau gave him a how-de-do. He gave her some sweet talk. She parted with the gold and was happy that she had the wooden horse.

Another chorus of how happy are we and the same Joe came back again. This time he had a paper cow. He told her that the horse wasn't any good and let's swap for a side of good beef. Just as dumb as ever, she swapped and he dashed off. She sang another chorus of how happy are we.

Once again the character dashed back on the stage and this time he had a paper rooster. There was some more rangle-dangle and the poor little old frau didn't have her paper cow any more. She had a paper rooster.

Applauded Like Crazy

She still seemed pretty happy about it—until the traveling salesman arrived on the scene again. This time he got tough. He threatened, cajoled and threatened again. He gave the frau a wooden sword and took her rooster away. Suddenly, the fellow looked frightened, told the woman she'd have to protect him and ran away. The frau went through a simulated fight with somebody. The sword broke.

The symbolism was complete. Hitler quit. The volksturm was kicked around with only a wooden sword for protection. Germany was kaput.

The audience applauded like crazy and then went out of the little theater to visit the rest of the zoo.

It was a good fable, well told. But there wasn't anything in it anywhere that told how the traveling salesman character got that horse in the first place to trade for the frau's gold, and nobody seemed to want to inquire how that came about.

The ancient Romans were in the habit of drinking the flowing blood of the gladiators as a cure for epilepsy and other ills.

BEEF ON RANGE, NONE ON TABLE

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP) — This meat-hungry nation is witnessing the paradox of near record numbers of cattle roaming the ranges while dinner table platters are empty of beef.

Agriculture Department officials said today the number of cattle on the nation's farms is not far below the 1944 peak and that the number on western ranges may be the largest on record.

But grass-fed cattle are not moving off ranges to slaughter pens in numbers the government had expected. Department experts said uncertainty over future prices tends to delay marketings.

This picture of the beef situation was depicted as Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson prepared to make a radio talk tonight on government price policies on farm products. Aides said the Secretary solidated school near York. She was accompanied at the piano by her voice teacher, Mrs. Mildred Rogers Dunstan, Dicks Dam.

Calls For Support Of Ethical Dealers

Philadelphia, Sept. 25 (AP)—Rep. Franklin E. Lichtenwalter, who headed a legislative inquiry into auto financing throughout the state, says the unscrupulous operators of auto financing agencies are prepared to fight any legislation designed to wipe out excessive charges and other such abuses.

The majority floor leader from Lehigh county told 1,500 dealers attending the 26th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Automotive association last night.

"We are asking for the continued support of all ethical dealers in having these recommendations placed on the statute books," Lichtenwalter referred to recommendations which his legislative committee has drawn up to protect those "who have been gouged in the past by unscrupulous operators."

was expected to discuss the livestock situation.

MAY LEGISLATE SCHOOL MOVIES

Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Motion pictures may become a part of Pennsylvania's school system if a program proposed by George Young, chairman of the General Assembly's school commission, is adopted at the next session of the Legislature.

Young said yesterday that visual education has proved its worth in the training programs conducted by the army and navy and he planned to recommend its adoption for school purposes at a meeting of the commission on Friday.

Specially prepared motion pictures, said Young, "makes it possible to expose every Pennsylvania youngster to the best teaching talent in the nation."

Under his plan, declared Young, a division of visual education will be created in the Department of Public Instruction to handle the necessary administrative details of placing the movies before all the school children of the commonwealth.

He said that if his plan met with the approval of the other members of the commission it might be suggested that state funds be used to finance the installation of needed equipment in all schools.

Find Plot To Oust Yanks From Korea

Seoul, Sept. 25 (AP)—A confiscated Communist document revealed Tuesday that Korean Communists have been plotting to drive American occupation forces from southern Korea and, at the same time, welcoming the Red Army, which holds the northern half of the dismembered country.

United States military authorities gested that state funds be used to finance the installation of needed equipment in all schools.

identified the document as the Korean Communist party's official "plans of propaganda and strife for September."

The translated document showed that several "struggles" and "demonstrations," designed to further Red plans, had been scheduled for this month. These activities had one major party goal—"a movement aimed at forcing the United States Army to withdraw."

The document was found on Sept. 6—the same day on which three leftist newspapers were suspended "for endangering the security of United States Army forces" in their southern occupation zone.

STATE AFL MAY STAY NEUTRAL THRU CAMPAIGN
Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—A possibility that AFL, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor may remain neutral in the 1946 political campaign developed today as the federation's council met to consider the question.
President James L. McDevitt mentioned that possibility but said the question of whether or not to endorse candidates will be decided by the 15-member council.
The CIO-Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council has endorsed state-wide candidates of the Democratic party, headed by U. S. Senator Joseph E. Guffey for re-election and John S. Rice for governor.
A statement issued by the federation's council said its members would review labor planks in the Republican and Democratic platforms during consideration of the position to be taken "with respect to political participation in the 1946 general election."
Practice Condemned
The council, at a session yesterday, condemned what it said was a practice of rescinding material priorities on commercial projects after work has started.
A resolution, which the council adopted, said "a considerable number of projects have been started and are now tied up, resulting in thousands of workers in the building trades being thrown out of work."
The council also opposed the shipment of more "vitality needed" building materials to foreign countries. Other actions called on the federal government to sever diplomatic relations with Spain and other nations under dictators; instructed federation officials to cooperate with the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce in increasing production of "badly needed goods" and called upon AFL unions to form consumer cooperatives.

Says Democrats In Hands Of Radicals
Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—The Democratic party, said Governor Martin in a campaign address here Monday night, "has surrendered to the PAC, dominated, not by loyal Americans, not by patriotism, x x x but by Communists and radicals."
The Republican party's nominee for the U. S. Senate said that "in return for this outrageous betrayal of a once great political party, the present Democratic leadership expects to receive votes forced by pressure and intimidation."
He said "they have been promised a gigantic slush fund dragged from the pockets of many unwilling working men and women."
Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican candidate for governor, in another address, told the group that published reports from Pittsburgh quoted Philip Murray, CIO president, as saying "Governor Martin and the whole Republican ticket are enemies of society." Duff said "the intemperance and extravagance of this language shows what excesses the PAC is willing to permit itself in order to try and win this year's election in Pennsylvania."

Valencia Ballroom To Open Saturday
The Valencia ballroom, 144 North George street, York, announces the opening dance of its 1946-47 season, to be held Saturday evening. The Valencia has secured Buddy Rich and his orchestra. Buddy Rich was formerly featured with Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra. His present orchestra is not quite one year old but he has gained national recognition of being one of the top bands of the day.
Buddy Rich appeared at the Valencia on January 23, 1946. This engagement was unique in that it marked the first public one night stand for the Buddy Rich organization. Dancing on the opening night will be from 8 p. m. to midnight.
The Valencia has recently completed the installation of a new RCA sound amplification system. This system is of the latest design. In order that the entire Valencia dancing area, mezzanine floor and the Blue Room are covered with equal sound, 50 speakers have been installed.

London, Sept. 25 (AP)—Joseph Stalin has outdone Karl Marx as a best-selling writer, the Moscow radio reported today.
Stalin's book, "A Short Course of the History of the CPSU (Bolsheviks)," was published October 1, 1939. In the eight years since the broadcast said, 31,317,000 copies have been distributed in 61 Soviet dialects and 16 foreign languages.
"In the whole history of Marxism, no other Marxist book has received such wide distribution," the announcement said.

Schools Closed Because Of Polio
New Kensington, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—Schools in this Westmoreland county city of 24,055 population have been ordered closed until October 1 because of three deaths among four polio sufferers here in the last month.
The closings include the high school, a junior high school, eight elementary schools, and a trade school with approximately 2,000 pupils.
Of the three children who died, one was a high school student, one a grade school pupil and the other a pre-school child.
The closing order will interrupt New Kensington high's winning football campaign, which included victories over Central Catholic high, Pittsburgh, 26-0; Beaver Falls, 25-7, and Schenley of Pittsburgh, 45-0. A game scheduled with St. George's of Pittsburgh was cancelled but the Har-Brack game October 5 will be played, although the team will not be able to practice until October 1.

Mother In Coma To Make Airplane Trip
Allentown, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Rhoda Wenger, 24, who gave birth to a daughter after being in a semi-coma six months, will leave Saturday by army hospital plane for California where University of California specialists will try to repair the brain injury she suffered in an automobile accident last November.
Her husband, Leland, an army sergeant, and the baby, Karen Beth, will accompany her on the flight. Sgt. Wenger, who also was injured seriously in the accident, will be admitted to the Letterman hospital in San Francisco for treatment.
The youthful mother, who gave birth to the baby May 28 while in a condition which doctors described as "suspended death," is still unaware of her daughter. She opens her eyes and smiles, her husband said, but she has not been able to talk.
The baby, who weighed four pounds at birth and now weighs

RADIO STATIONS HIT BY STRIKE OF TECHNICIANS
Philadelphia, Sept. 25 (AP)—Westinghouse radio stations in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Boston and Springfield, Mass., were operating normally today after a walkout of members of the unaffiliated National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians interrupted broadcasts last night.
Executive and supervisory forces took over operation of the stations after some broadcasts were interrupted for as long as an hour and a half by the walkout.
Executives of the radio stations said the walkout started after the union rejected a company offer of a $45 minimum—$90 maximum for a 40-hour week.
Want $127.50 Top
Spokesmen for the Pittsburgh, Boston and Springfield stations said the union is seeking increases in the existing $42.20—$81.70 wage scale to a top of $127.50 for the 40-hour week.
Leslie Joy, station manager of KYW, an NBC affiliate, said the union here is seeking to have its present $47.70 minimum—$82.20 maximum wage scale increased to $65 and $125, respectively. The union rejected an offer of $55 to $92.50, retroactive to April 6, 1946.
Union officials were not immediately available for comment.
Pittsburgh's station KDKA was off the air for an hour and a half after 20 technicians walked out but broadcasting was returned to normal when executives and supervisory workers took over.
Short Interruption
KYW and KYW-FM in Philadelphia were interrupted only 17 minutes after the walkout at 6:30 p. m. (EST) yesterday.
Thirty-one technicians walked off their jobs at stations WBZ in Boston and WBZA in Springfield, Mass., interrupting broadcasts for 34 minutes nearly nine pounds, is healthy and normal.

To Aid Disabled On Auto Licenses
Harrisburg, Sept. 25 (AP)—Disabled war veterans who are entitled, under a recent act of Congress, to own and operate specially built motor vehicles, will have the cooperation of state officials in obtaining licenses in Pennsylvania.
Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris said yesterday these eligible veterans fall into two classes: first, those who have been issued operators' licenses since leaving hospitals.
The walkout also affected the transmitting station at Hull, Mass., which serves WBZ but did not affect WBOS, the Westinghouse international short wave station beamed to Europe and South America.
The radio stations said negotiations have been underway for over a month and a "final effort to stave off the walkout was made last week in sessions with local representatives of the conciliation service of the U. S. Department of Labor."
